

Crucify your - me - on your cross.

Session nr 8 of 21 July 2022 – English translation– original Dutch.

Place : Mezzaverde in Belgium

Received by Wivine

Visitor : Christ Michael –Creator Son of our local universe Nebadon – known as Jeshua Ben Joseph or Jesus of Nazareth during his human life.

Note Wivine :

I was looking for something. So many things happen during our group meditations, of which I seek confirmation in the material world. Or rather: how are the things that the Spiritual World tells us in our sessions, what we do individually and in our group meditations translate into the material world. What impact does it have globally. This is how I came across an article of a Christian association which stated the following based on biblical fragments to the question: How can we know God?

"First of all, we must absolutely understand that man is unable to do this on his own because of his original sin. The Scriptures reveal to us that we are sinners, therefore not holy enough to have fellowship with God. The scriptures add that the result of our sin is the death of the soul and that we face eternal destruction if we do not accept God's promise of salvation thanks to the "sacrifice of Jesus on the cross". »

I was raised Catholic, I was never a Bible scholar or a great practitioner. On the contrary, I was an individual seeker poking around like a hunting dog from the time I was old enough to get rid of this social and clerical pressure.

But when I read this text, I felt cold. Incredible that such a thing is still told and believed. What bothered me the most, and has always bothered me, is that Jesus would have sacrificed himself on the cross for the sins that we were born with. That he accepted physical death on the cross in order to give eternal life to our souls, we sinners from birth. And moreover, with the blessing of God, our and his Loving and Benevolent Father.

I've been ruminating on this for over a week. I needed an explanation of the meaning of the crucifixion. Any, as long as it wasn't that one.

Jesus :

Each of you yearns to associate with other people. Man is a social being and likes to be known, respected, appreciated, being important in the eyes of others.

You all want to know the Creator, the world of the Higher Spirits, to hear their voices, even to see them. To become a speaker of God and the Celestials, and convey their messages of wisdom.

Many believe that they have thus reached the spiritual summit to a greater or lesser extent.

Unfortunately for those who live in this illusion, nothing could be further from the truth. The real spiritual goal of human life goes much further and does not necessarily follow this path which often ends in a dead end. If this were true, it would be a disaster for the spiritual progress of your humanity.

This stems from your ignorance, your upbringing, the social pressures around you, and above all your own ambitions. The desire to obtain status, prestige, success, even power. This is found in all branches of your social and business life. A sportsman is as much driven by his environment and his own ambitions to reach the "top" as a business man, a scientific researcher or a social worker.

It is even found in "crescendo" among those who walk a "spiritual path". No matter what you mean by that.

All these needs prompt your "Me, your I" to move up the social ladder. At best in a righteous and honest way, at worst in a perverted way.

As you progress through life, you will encounter setbacks. These can be financial problems, the loss of loved ones, health or psychological problems.

At some point you will search the meaning of life.

Is there a God?

Yes, says the immense variety of Organized Religions, but then certain conditions must be fulfilled. Come in and we'll take you into our faith and explain you everything. If you leave us, you will become an outcast and a lost sheep.

What if you don't like their conditions? What if all these different religions that talk about one Creator contradict each other, to the point of arguing about it and going to war?

Besides that, they all have their Holy Book which proclaims the word of God which you should never doubt.

What if you feel inside that there are things that ring false? Are you going to run away from your belief in the existence of God? Or will you keep looking for Him? How are you going to search? Will you turn to sages or messengers who you believe speak the "truth"?

Will you continue to seek God and His Wisdoms outside of you? Through other people? Because you are convinced that God cannot contact you directly? Or because you think you're not good enough to stand before God? Because you are afraid that He will condemn and punish you, O great sinner?

My children, I never preached such a thing to my disciples and there were hundreds of them. They came from everywhere.

What I proclaimed 2,000 years ago, and thereby became a danger to the corrupt priesthood then in existence, is that a Creator of all living things exists, that He is a loving and comprehensive Father and that henceforth each human being could from then on receive a Fragment, a Spark of Him from his young age.

Something which was much more difficult to obtain before my arrival, and which affected the spiritual development of all mankind. Man was then much more dependent on the priesthood. A well-established, prestigious, wealthy and powerful priesthood all over the world for tens of thousands of years.

As the true high priests, who acted as intermediaries between the people and the Higher Celestial Orders, disappeared one after another on all continents, the deception of the priesthood as an organized power took hold.

They of course continued to insist that man needed them, that they were the intermediaries between man and God. People had to offer sacrifices on the altar of their temples and churches, donate money or goods, or do penance if they had sinned for the salvation of their souls.

It even went so far that people literally paid priests to do the work of uplifting their soul for them.

On the other hand, the priesthood expected nothing else than compliance with the imposed rules, never questioning the proclaimed faith, making sacrifices and paying for their mediation services with God.

This Fragment, this Spark coming from the Creator who lives in each one of you, has all the attributes of God, is in constant communication with its Source.

This God Fragment is your personal Source of all Higher Wisdom and Truth.

Once you accept it into your life, you will know God personally. As you turn inward to commune with your indwelling Divine Spark regarding your life issues and Wisdom needs, you will discover a God who loves you, who never judges you, who understands you and helps you in all your difficulties.

All He asks is that you confidently place your hand in His and never let go.

All humans belong to God's Creation, none are considered inferior by Him.

All souls start small and receive thousands of opportunities to grow. The moment you want to know God and turn to Him in your heart, God knows you. You become His child.

Each person has its cross to bear in life.

Each person has his difficulties in developing their soul. The man who carries his burdens to the top of his mountain, walking hand in hand with God in his heart, will then have only one more step to take to reach the Glory of his soul already here on earth.

When all worldly temptations will have faded one by one, when your dozens of little egos will have been conquered, your decisive moment will come:

The crucifixion of your great "Me!" on your Cross.

Only then will your soul be fully ready to fuse with its indwelling Divine Spark. It is then that your soul will reach those great spiritual heights that God has planned for you here and now.

It is then that you will become a real benefit for all humanity, that you will perform greater miracles than Me on earth.

This is the very ancient spiritual meaning of the "Symbol of the Cross". A human who voluntarily nails his "ME" to his cross.

Thank you, my dear children. I assist you all in your quest for spiritual truth and growth. My role and My help is to bring you to the Father in Paradise, your role is to work towards it voluntarily, as an individual.

It is your responsibility, and yours alone. Nobody else can do it for you. As a result, someone else cannot sell it to you or give it to you and therefore no one can take it away from you.

What you have achieved through your own work and efforts remains inseparable from you.

Start and know:

- That it is never too late;
- Even if you are the biggest sinner in the world. No soul from Urantia, the planet of my human life, will be lost.

End.

(Note Wivine: The symbolism of the Christian cross first appeared in the 4th century AD, after the Roman Emperor Constantine composed his 'state religion' which he called the Christian religion. This does not come from the first disciples of Jesus who also did not call themselves 'Christians.' They never depicted Jesus on the cross. I think it came from the adversary.)
